For over three decades on the concert stage, the members of the Grammy® Award-winning Los Angeles Guitar Quartet (LAGQ) have continually set the standard for expression and virtuosity among guitar ensembles, while perennially redefining themselves in their musical explorations. As one of the most charismatic groups performing today, the LAGQ's critically acclaimed transcriptions of concert masterworks provide a fresh look at the music of the past, while their interpretations from the contemporary and world-music realms continually break new ground. Their recent recordings are "New Renaissance," which marks a return to early music themes with a distinctly modern aesthetic and "Interchange," featuring concertos by Rodrigo and Assad. Tours featuring collaborative works written for the LAGQ including Nico Muhly's groundbreaking work "How Little You Are" for voices and guitars and Andrew York's "By Chants" for guitar quartet and guitar orchestra, as well as "Road to the Sun," by Pat Metheny featured in their American Guitar Masters program are among highlights of the LAGQ's 2019-20 Season.
